The Russell 2000 Value Index measures the performance of small cap value segment of the U.S. equity universe. It includes those Russell 2000 companies with lower price-to-book ratios and lower forecasted growth values.

FUND INVESTMENT STYLE:

The Fund's investment advisor searches for securities across the broad universe of small capitalization companies, using a proprietary scoring model to identify companies that are trading at a discount to intrinsic value. Research is generated internally, avoiding external sell-side analysis. The two critical areas for analysis are the cash flow statement and balance sheet which allow an evaluation of a company's sustainable free cash flow. This cash flow can be used to invest and expand, acquire other companies, reduce debt, buy in stock or pay dividends. Investment decisions are made on the basis of whether the company is selling at a discount valuation, management has an achievable plan for building shareholder value, and their track record suggests they are capable of implementing the strategy.
